“ Living the lives we want can be hard work. Reinvention is all about becoming more of who you said you wanted to be and closing the gap between an ordinary everyday life and an extraordinary purposeful connection. ”

Randi Levin: Fortune 500 Keynote • Author • Reinvention Influencer

Randi is a nationally recognized transitional life strategist. She supports women in redefining, curating, and choosing their legacy as a power tool for transforming and pivoting in their lives. At the age of 22, women make sweeping life-long decisions that may no longer align with a 40, 50, or 65-year-old version of who we they are. Using the concept of legacy as a power tool for change, Randi shifts perspectives in regard to fear, growth, purpose, and success. She is a contributing author in the anthology series Get RESULTS! and is widely quoted and featured in top media outlets. Wife, mom, travel enthusiast-Randi has reinvented her life many times over, making her the transitional coach you want to support you and your audiences in embracing what's next!
